

A TUSCAN HOLIDAY

DECEMBER 21, 2014

The Tuscan Association's holiday potluck on Dec. 21 turned into a celebration of food, music and a special person.

Lucia Galizia, for a half-century an important member of the Portland's Italian community, was honored by the club for her service. Whether it be on the air on KBOO's The Italian Hour, as an organizer of Festa Italiana or as an advocate of Italian language meetups – before they were called “meetups” – Lucia has been there.

Tuscan Association founder Carlo Mannocci and president Jimmie Moglia presented the plaque (above).

Then, after a sumptuous dinner – oh, the pasta! – it was time for entertainment.

Lucia's husband, Roland Michaud, (above) led the audience in Christmas carols.

Jimmie also serenaded the crowd on the guitar. And Audrey Perino and the DiGiulio kids (Olivia and Eliza) entertained as The Tuscan Trio.

From all the wonderful folks, to the lasagna, to the nocino to the gelato, to Silent Night, was a fun day!
